Amy Kendall Chief Administrative Officer Cardinal Innovations Healthcare

Amy Kendall was appointed chief administrative officer for Cardinal Innovations Healthcare in 2015. In this role, she is responsible for overseeing the Community Operations, Corporate Communications, Government Relations, Cultural Competency and Human Resources departments.

Kendall was previously the company's senior associate general counsel, serving as the senior legal and regulatory advisor and focusing on a variety of legal, regulatory and policy issues, including corporate governance, regulatory compliance, corporate transactions and intellectual property matters. She also managed a team of legal and regulatory professionals who provided advice, counsel and support to the business. She started her career with Cardinal Innovations as assistant general counsel in 2011.

Kendall graduated magna cum laude from Charlotte School of Law in 2011, where she served as senior managing editor of the Charlotte Law Review and as a founding member of the Order of the Crown.

Prior to obtaining her juris doctor, Kendall obtained a doctorate in neuroscience from the University of Alabama at Birmingham in 2006, where she authored six peer-reviewed publications and served as Chair of the Neurobiology Graduate Student Seminar Series. She graduated with a bachelor of science in biology from Virginia Tech in 2000.

Kendall was recently nominated to serve on the Council of the North Carolina Bar Association's Health Law Section for the upcoming year. She and her husband live in Charlotte with their two sons.
